

Penmann are Rob Hamer (guitar) and Lloyd Rock (vocals, guitar), an acoustic duo from Liverpool, England. The pair are known for their beautiful finger-picked melodies, settling somewhere between folk and pop.

Formed in 2010, Penmann have played around Merseyside and have performed alongside Harp & A Monkey and Emily Barker.

The band's first self-recorded demo emerged in 2012. 'Waltz', a pretty fingerpicked song with a sense of the medieval, and the joyous pop-based strums of 'We Like To Sing', were the first songs to meet the ears of audiences around the English north-west.

With delicate guitar work and 'diamond-tipped' vocals, Penmann's love for melody ensures that even their most complex effort will remain simple and earnest in its result.

Penmann released their debut album, 'Penmann', in 2017 and are currently preparing new music for their follow-up.

You can find the band on Twitter @penmannmusic,

on Facebook at facebook.com/penmannmusic, and on their website at www.penmann.net.

Penmann's music is available to stream and purchase from their BandCamp page, accessible via the band's website.